Approval of Meeting Minutes from 04/10/23

Meeting minutes approved unanimously.
REPORT: President – Rossellin Gaitán

Hello, Again Folks and Happy International Bat Appreciation Day! (Be kind if you see one) Last week was NCUR! I volunteered, met with the Deans of Colleges, Met with VC Crickette and Kent G about a presentation for next week and got some work done. Pretty routine!

This upcoming week, We have a meeting with VC Felz, I will be meeting with Dean Heinselman, Attending Voting Committee, and having my usual check in’s as transitional materials are gonna wrap up soon. It will be a slower week as we start to wrap up here!

Take care and lead with Grace. I Yield.

Q: Can you ask people to vote for you? A: No, you can just ask people to vote/tell them that it is happening.
Q: Why can’t you ask people to vote for you? A: Only in classrooms/office, it is a restricted space.

REPORT: Vice President – Brett Farmer

Good evening everyone!

This last week was a very busy one! I had most of my usual check-ins, met with three of the four deans, and had a very fruitful conversation with Vice Chancellor Crickette, Kent Gerberich and President Gaitan, which you will hear more about next week! Outside of Senate, I volunteered six different shifts at NCUR and was able to see lots of amazing projects and displays, and I enjoyed my time learning so much! Congrats and great job to all of you that volunteered, presented, or participated in any capacity at NCUR, it was a very successful and impactful event that we were so lucky to host! I hope you all were able to take somewhat of a break from school work and pretend like we had some time off!

This week, I will be finishing up some election work, meeting again with Vice Chancellor Crickette, chatting with other campus shared governance leaders, and starting some conversations about future projects with campus leaders.

Again, as we reach the end of the semester and session, it can be very easy to feel overwhelmed and anxious, but if you need any support please don’t hesitate to reach out. Take care of yourselves and check in with the ones you love. Thank you and I yield.

REPORT: Senate Personnel Director – Anakah Denison

Happy Monday all, I hope you are staying warm with this April snowstorm we’ve been having! Last week I was mostly occupied with volunteering, presenting at and attending NCUR, which was an incredible experience, and I hope you all got the opportunity to see some of the incredible research and work done by students all across the country and Eau Claire. In the final few weeks of the session I will be working on the Blugold Guide project and transition materials, and next week I plan to attend the State of Sustainability lunch and as many Earth Week events as I can. I would also like to make myself available for anyone who may be thinking about exec or my position next year—if you have any questions, I would be happy to answer them—my Outlook is always up to date, and you can also message me through Messenger! That also goes for anyone who needs a listening ear as the year draws to a close. Despite the weather, summer is almost here!

As always, the first person to turn in their report this week was Dir. Suresh—congrats!

Thank you, and I yield.

REPORTS: Board of Directors

Academic Affairs Commission Director – Sahana Suresh
Hello all,

I hope you all are having a great start to your week so far. Last week was pretty light for AAC due to the NCUR Conference; but I did have the opportunity to volunteer at NCUR which was a lot of fun and extremely educational. Kudos to everyone who presented; you all are incredible. This week and from hear on out will be a bit lighter in AAC as the semester come to a close. I will continue to have my normal meetings and continue to do my absolute best to be a part of some great changes on campus. My biggest project is to get a really good flow with the mental health committee; communicating with the correct people and setting a really great foundation so it can be easy for the future director to pick up. There has been a lot of great work going into that shoutout to my wonderful commission members. I’ll also be working on my transition materials for the next director. That being said, if you have interest in being AAC director, I would love to chat with you if you have any questions; I am always here for all of you. That is all I have. I yield.

Communication Commission Director – Ivan San
Howdy everyone, I hope you all enjoyed are warm weather last week & are ready for a cold one! This morning the new org “Blugold Hype Squad” and I hosted Motivation Monday, spreading awareness of the new org while cheering on Students for another successful week. As for last week, Comms finished a variety of graphics projects, including the table tents you see around Davies reminding us all to vote for next session’s student representatives! Door hanger ads for SOC’s Party Registry were finished and printed as well.

As we near the end of the session, this week Comms will be finishing more generalized graphics work to be used for future sessions as well as (hopefully) implementing more Senate representation on campus, such as acknowledgement during tours and in 100 level courses.

Thank you all for listening, make sure you tell your friends to vote for next sessions Student Represenatives! Have a successful week, Comms out.

Equity in Student Matters Senate Director – Josh Holness
What’s crack-a-lackin’, everybody?

I hope you all had a great long-ish weekend with NCUR kicking us off campus! I went to some of the presentations, staffed an open house in The Bridge, and attended a panel on anti-racism in higher education. Last week, we had Cindy Yang from Counseling Services come in to help us wind down and make playdough! We had some successful playdoughers during that meeting—I was not one of them. For those who were there the last time we had Cindy come in, it was slime all over again. I also was able to get together with Director Suresh and AAC to discuss our next steps for wellness on campus.

As for this week in ESM, it’s gonna be another slow one as we wind down for the semester. All major updates will be at this week’s commission meeting, so if you can attend, please do!

Lastly, next Monday is the GLSEN Day of Silence, a national student-led demonstration where LGBTQ students and allies all around the country—and the world—take a vow of silence to protest the harmful effects of harassment and discrimination of LGBTQ people in schools. And considering the current social and political climate we’re in, I implore you all to do something—whether it’s a moment of silence or the entire day.

Hmong banquet: 5-7 p.m. Wednesday, April 26, Dakota and Alumni rooms, Davies Center. This end of Hmong Heritage Month celebration on campus features a keynote speaker, followed by dinner and performances. Space is limited so RSVP is encouraged. RSVP details will be added as they become available.

That’s it! Be better. I yield. Joshs

Finance Commission Director – Ben Johnson
Hello everyone, I hope you are all having a great start to your week. Congratulations to those who presented at NCUR, I’m sure you all did great. This week will be the final Finance Commission meeting of the year, we will be going over this year’s accomplishments and having treats. It will not be a long meeting, come have some food and chat. I hope to see you there. Have a good rest of your week and I Yield.

Intergovernmental Affairs Commission Director – Hannah Kelly
After the passing of the food pantry bills last IGA will now be at work finalizing the work that needs to be done to make sure they be put to great use this year! Otherwise with the Dash and Bash coming up myself and IGA will be working on finalizing the food trucks, activities, and everything else that needs to be done. The Dash and Bash is held when the session is over but there will still need to be some work done. So if you are free May 2nd and would like to volunteer please let me know!

Information Technologies Commission Director – Joseph Dokken
Hello all,
ITC did not meet last week. We will be voting on the approval of the Student Tech Fee Budget this week and I will be bringing that to Senate along with the initiatives legislation in the weeks to come.
That’s all folks! See you on the 19th hole.

I yield.

Student Organization Commission Director – Brad Heap

Good evening,

This week the Student Organization Commission did not meet due to NCUR and will also not be meeting this week due to a prior commitment within my major. As I mentioned last week, I will be reintroducing 66-B-13 this evening, which is now titled as 66-B-21. The new bill contains the original intent of the first bill, which was to have the extra funds following the appeal process and end of the student segregated funding fee process move straight into the SOC Special Allocation fund. I will talk more about the new additions to the bill in my introduction, so stay tuned for that. This week I spent my time preparing new advertising materials for the party registry system, including both table tents and door hangers, which you will start seeing pop up around the Eau Claire area very soon. On the note of the party registry system, I will also be meeting with Dean Heinselman later this week to discuss the expansion of the party registry system to all schools in the UW system, an initiative that has already had support from UW-Stout, Stevens Point, and Platteville. Finally, today I spent my time with Director McGuine, Director San, and Blu in tabling for Motivation Monday and the first general meeting of the Blugold Hype Squad, which will be this Wednesday, from 4-5pm in Centennial 1204. I hope you all continue to have an excellent and successful semester, and as always, take care, brush ya hair, and I yield.

Student Office of Sustainability Commission Director – Sydney McGuine

Hello everyone, this last week was very busy as I am sure it was for you all too. We passed a lot of proposals in SOS, three of which are coming new today as bills. Received more information on Pack it Up Pass it On questions that were asked last week which will be coming to you in my reintroduction. I also worked on the sustainability walk for NCUR and a bridge walk. I took the LSAT on Friday and started working on transition materials. As many of you know, I have a co-director, and for this position there is going to be an application coming out sometime this week. It is not the same process as my position as far as applying for it goes, but if any of you are at all interested, please feel free to ask me any questions and I would be happy to help! Have a great rest of your weeks despite it being so cold again. I yield.

University Activities Commission Director – Zach Jacobson

Misc. Notes:
Introduction, Dir. McGuine:
- Same as last week
- Will add four positions to the AOS, funded by SOS
- There are checks and balances so the positions remain involved with SOS and report to SOS
- Was approved by SOS
- Will allow them to address more sustainable initiatives than before

Speaker Sentiments:
- Would be a great addition to SOS; the more people working on sustainability the better, and it is also a great resume builder for students in the environmental sphere
- Want to speak to the work that went into this; was consulted on this legislation; it is solid, and the work done is good, as well as making sure that there is oversight and cannot be exploited. Would vote up if he could.
- Thinks it is a great bill—many things regarding sustainability on campus can’t get done because of lack of manpower—even compost goes to the landfill, in soil layers, due to ineffective sorting.
Institutionalizing the hydroponics internship, rather than making it a one-off can implement lasting change.

Misc. Notes:

Introduction, Person:

- It happens every year, this is just the first year it came to Senate
- It lets students leave large furniture and other items to be donated
- One of the big questions last week was why first dibs go to thrift stores; after asking the health department coordinator, they found that donation groups collect items as they go, if they set aside items until the end, there would not be room. They decide what they want on-site, so the delay would result in more items being thrown rather than donated. Additionally, students often do not pick up items, even when nicer items are set aside, about 12/day. Setting it up with students first would result in more items going towards the landfill. Furthermore, this is right before “Homeless Week”, and many students would not have room to store these items.
- Q: You said that any objects set aside for students that are not picked up are not recollected by thrift stores? A: Yes, most of the time, if the event didn’t happen you would have to pay to take them to the landfill. Followup: Is there any way that the people who take items to the thrift stores could come by at the end of the day again? A: It is up to the stores; they have Family Promise and Habitat for Humanity participate, and others do not participate due to the manpower needed and it is not worth the payoff.
- Q: For many thrift store donations are tax-deductible—is that being given to the University or unused? A: She is not sure—they partner with the University and the Health Department, so she could ask them about it.

Speaker Sentiments:

- This is a great program that is a staple of moveout, it is good to see growth in the demand, and it is impressive that they have been able to keep it under $5,000 until now
- Good way to help off-campus students through seg fees, since they often don’t benefit as much
- In general, college life can be really consumptive, so any way to recycle and re-use items is awesome, think it is a great bill
- Yield to redundancy
- AMENDMENTS:
  - Line 15: add a $ before 5,000 and remove “dollars” after
  - Line 17: remove “dollars”

<td>66-B-18 – Monthly Stipend to Support the Campus Pantry</td>
<td>Introduced</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Misc. Notes:

Introduction, Sen. Hicks:
- This and the following bill are two parts of a whole
- They will edit the bylaws of SOS
- Add a subheader to add funding the Campus Pantry to the bylaws
- The Pantry is very underfunded—they spend about 2-3k per month to keep stockpiled
- Received $9,000 last year total, along with a $3,000 match on Giving Tuesday
- Brewer Hall will be demolished in the future and will need a new home
- By adding an institutional reoccurring source of seg fees, it will make it more certain that it will survive
- In his conversations with Dean H., he has been given the green light for it
- Expenditures can be used for facilities, equipment, supplies, and other related and non-profit organizations
- It ties in with Sustainability as intersectionality
- The need is growing by the day
- Q: You settled on 1,000/month for nine months—was that pulled from the funds necessary for the pantry, or excess funding from the Green Fund? A: Both, 2-3k/month in spending would be ~18k per year, so it is designed to roughly make up half their budget, accounting for the 9k they received. But there is also room in the Green Fund for it. Followup: Have you asked other departments if there is room for funding elsewhere? A: No, talked with IGA members about it though, and asked about other sources and help.
- Q: You talked about how the food pantry will need to be moved—can you expand on that? A: Yes—Brewer Hall will be destroyed in the near future, and the pantry will be moving, where they don’t yet know. Sara would want it to be put in Davies, and provide art destigmatizing food insecurity that covers the windows so light can get in but the people inside are not visible. Those plans are not made yet. Followup: Is there a timeframe for moving it? A: Within 5 years
- Q: Given that if this bill passes it would double their funds, do you know what would be don’t with these funds? A: Explicitly, there has not been talk about extra funding, since this would essentially balance their budget. Since the Campus Closet has moved, they have more space for hygiene and menstrual products that do not perish but are used, and could be an option to buy nonperishable items. For now do not foresee an issue, especially with Brewer Moving. Roughly 450 different individuals use it per year, not counting January. Even without Brewer moving, the demand is growing.

Motion to extend by 10 minutes passes, unanimous, placard
- Q: Why did you chose a fixed amount versus a variable amount based on how much the pantry is being used? A: There has been increase due to inflation, as well as an increase in demand. Don’t expect it to be used less, and this figure is not so large that it will be out of touch in a few years. Followup: Was more asking if the usage keeps increasing, is it ok to have only the $1000? A: Did not consider that too much, only thinking in terms of current use, did not want to allocate more than they could handle, would not be opposed to amending to a percentage, but because they get a variety of donations, food and money and items, it would be difficult to calculate. Followup: So do you think this is the best way to structure it now? A: Yes

- Q: Is concerned about prohibitive 820 policy—one of the things we cannot do is student services, which includes campus assistance centers—do you have a plan, if this cannot be passed? A: The 820 policy is vague and contradictory—some things say no gifts, donations or contributions to student orgs (as opposed as to fer specific purposes) etc.—how he interprets it is that if it is a grey area, it is ok to explore it, and since no one else in administration is doing it, he thinks there isn’t anything wrong with being told no, and if it were blocked, the next step would be to write a resolution to fund the Pantry. Madison spent $30,000 on an electric food truck for students, which is owned by Dining, but was paid for by students. He thinks this is much less of a stretch of 820, as a student run and student-used initiative.

- Q: Do you have any plans to buy “sustainable” food options—e.g. reducing single use plastic? A: will make more clear what the money will be spent on, in terms of hygiene products has funded sustainable menstrual products which have been very successful—in terms of food, it is a systemic issue, if you were to ask would students rather have food or create waste, that is a larger supply chain issue, it is not a simply put issue. Most of the food comes from the feed my people food bank—they buy a lot of food from surplus food banks. Most of theirs comes from manufacturer surplus—the food pantry effectively buys food that has already been bought, and mitigates food waste. If choosing between feeding students in need and using plastic, he believes feeding students has a larger positive net impact.

- Q: Why bylaw change and not transition material? A: IGA precedent, and as a voting member, is not familiar with transition documents, doesn’t want to leave it up to chance. Senate changes year to year, and it is the same for commissions. For most of SOS this year has been hard to meet quorum, but have had a much more successful late session SOS—didn’t want to rely on there being a consistent lack of turnover.

Motion to extend Q and A by 5 minutes passes unanimously, placard

- With this adding $1,000 every month, you said monthly they use 2-3k per month, and we will be adding another 9,000, are there any plans to extend these funds? A: After this bill is a lump sum bill designed to give them a buffer and time to explore avenues. Wanted to be very cognizant with the allocation—this is a start, if they need more funding later, that is something else that would be explored. This is a stopgap.

66-B-19 – Bulk Donation to Support the Campus Harvest Pantry

Misc. Notes:
Introduction, Sen. Hicks:
- Will try to keep this shorter
- Very similar to the last bill
- This allocation to the foundation account would “make up” for this year, if the previous bill were to pass
- The Green Fund had an unexpected excess of funds this year
- The Pantry has the capacity and need to stockpile certain nonperishables, as well as perishable items for this summer
- Will add next week—70% of the budget is designated for nonperishables and hygiene products
- All of this will be communicated with SOS for the sake of transparency and accountability
- Q: You mentioned restrictions—can they use this to improve the food pantry when it moves? A: When this is amended it will be fleshed out. From his perspective, this will allow them to spend money from other sources on the move that do not have these restrictions on it. It will not directly go toward the cost of moving. It will provide a buffer to spend money from other sources in the Foundation account.

Misc. Notes:
Introduction, Dir. McGuine:
- Vinyl is nonrecyclable, so this is the only way to reuse these
- This would allow for the creation of 250 items
- Would be made over the summer and ready to hand out at the SSRC and SOS events
- No specific company yet, as it has not yet passed, but considering Rareform
- Q: Would that survey be sent out to the student body? A: No, it would be sent to Senate and SOS Followup: Has there been any outreach to the body for interest? A: There has not, only because NCUR just happened, and in order to save these we need to move pretty quick, and as representatives, it is within our purview to do.
- Q: Why just one type, and not all? A: Not sure, she thinks that because of how the company works, but she can ask and get back to you next week.
- Q: Do you know how much it would cost to be made? A: The payment would be for labor, and it is in the bill, $6,450.
• Q: Likes the idea, wondering if a lot of money is already being passed from the Green Fund, have you thought about putting these items up for sale to offset the cost? A: Have not, since the Green Fund is large, and want to use them as an incentive to join SOS. More information from Par. Miller: We can’t spend seg fees on things that will be sold for profit.

• Q: Concerns about discarding? A: This will hopefully deter some, even if some items do go to the landfill.

• Q: Is there any way to recycle vinyl? A: No her knowledge, there is no way to recycle knowledge, and they were told that they could create larger items with more material, but you cannot really do much with recycling vinyl.

• Motion to extend Q and A by 10 minutes passes, 23-3-2 placard

• Q: Have you considered donating the vinyl to Rareform? A: Can ask if they collect donations, but anecdotally, people love free items and is not a large concern.

• Q: Will the number of items change with type of item? A: There will be 250 regardless of type.

Misc. Notes:

Introduction, Dir. Heap:

• Remade version of the previous bill
• Exact verbiage is in the attachment
• Include new sections and subsections which outline the details and responsibilities of the Special Allocation Fund
• Some editorial changes—e.g. part 3 to part 5
• To ensure that future sessions continue to host Special Allocation Funding
• Due to the timing, he will be absent next week for reintroduction
• Dir. Johnson will be present next week for questions.
• Q: Could you elaborate on what is changing from the last bill to this one? A: The intent was to have leftover funding carryover to the Special Allocation fund, rather than back to the redistributed fund system. Added more verbiage about specific functions of the Fund. Original bill unintentionally removed the entire appeal process. Will ensure funding for orgs in need.
• Q: Have there been conversations on putting a cap on the Special Allocation Fund, or is the amount left over each year too marginal? A: Have not discussed it, due to the differences in student orgs, enrollments etc. The money they get for the funding process is calculated with an equation, so it always fluctuates, which is why he didn’t cap it, but he would be willing to look into that possibility.
Q: For context, can you explain what happens at the end of each year in SOC? A: If you get money from SOC, you have to spend/plan to spend 90% of your allocation by the third week of March—any unused by June 30 go back to the Finance commission, and SOC can appeal for those funds in a presentation to Finance to come back to SOC for that year. Followup: so there is no way for the fund to grow uncontrolled? A: Yes

<th>Pres. Gaitan</th>
<th>She sent a link to a form this past week, it is for the First Gen Handbook, she wanted a section for First Gen Students advice—please submit that to the survey, she wants to hear what you all have to say. You can put your name or anonymous. The past few weeks have been tough, the weather has been changing, and with nearing the end of the semester, people are stressed and overwhelmed. That is ok and normal, if you feel like you are nearing this, please take care of yourself. It is easier said than done, and everyone is here because they like to be overinvolved and that is how many of us function. At least be mindful of how much time you are investing in yourself. Make sure you are eating, take care of yourself. She wants you to end the semester strong. She’s seen people burn out, know and recognize when to step back. You are loved and special and have so much to give. Even after the session ends, you can always ask for lunch! She is so glad that we were able to laugh together here. Point of Personal Privilege: Can pictures of the events be put in the group chat? A: Yes!</th>
