Professional Development

Professional Seminars / Workshops

2020: Journal of Information System Workshop on Robotic Process Automation (RPA) Research: Views from RPA Industry Leaders and AIS Researchers. The aim of this workshop is to bring together Accounting Information Systems (AIS) researchers, representatives from leading RPA product and service providers, RPA users and practitioners working with or considering working with RPA, to have a conversation on RPA related challenges and research opportunities. First, the workshop provides an opportunity for RPA software, implementation firms and users to articulate some of the issues/challenges they face. Second, the workshop provides an opportunity to researchers interested in these topics/ideas to start exploring the possibility of collaboration with practitioners on addressing these research questions.
